

Big Tom is a brilliant idea. It's seriously good tomato juice, flavoured with 20 different herbs, spices and other natural ingredients, including a vegetarian version of Worcestershire sauce (the normal version contains anchovies). Added to vodka at a ratio of 3 parts (or more) Big Tom to 1 vodka, it makes an instant and convincing Bloody Mary. Containing no alcohol itself, it's just as delicious without vodka for the perfect non-alcoholic cocktail. You'll find it in all good supermarkets, including Waitrose, at around £2.59 per 75cl bottle.
